PDD CPD Event: Conservation-cum-Development Projects in the Wondered-Land

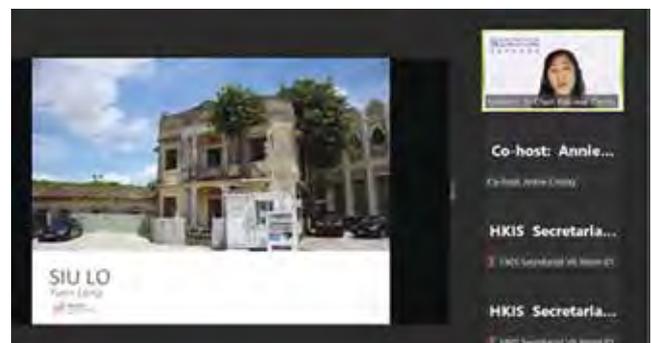

The Planning and Development Division co-organised a CPD with the Hong Kong Institute of Architectural Conservationists (HKICON) on 24 March with Sr Candy Chan as its speaker. Conservation and development were seen as polar opposites in the past. But times have changed. More developers are willing to preserve part or all of those historic buildings that would otherwise be demolished by integrating them into their new developments. Examples of this include the Tai O Heritage Hotel, The Mills, Tai Kwun, Central Market, etc.

Candy categorised conservation-cum-development projects into various forms: change of use; partial demolition; integration with new developments; development next to a historic building, but untouched; and land exchange. She introduced the required procedures and recommended early engagement with the Government. Built heritage preservation should become a trend and benefit Hong Kong. With the right balance of conservation and development, there could be a win-win-win result for the general public, Government, and developers.

The CPD was well-attended. On behalf of the PDD, I express my sincere thanks to Candy.

Sr Candy Chan (Speaker) and Sr Annie Chong (Host)

Reimagining Public Spaces in Hong Kong: Feasibility Study – Virtual Stakeholders Forum

On 3 March, Sr Junior Ho and I attended a virtual forum, Reimagining Public Spaces in Hong Kong, a feasibility study organised by AECOM and commissioned by the Planning Department.

The purpose of the study was to rethink, reimagine, and reinvent open spaces in Hong Kong with the aim of meeting current and emerging public needs and aspirations, as well as to holistically uplift Hong Kong's open space experiences.

After reviewing the components of open spaces including definition, classification, provision standards, design guidelines, etc, they will recommend preliminary amendments to the prevailing Hong Kong Planning Standards and Guidelines, Chapter 4 (Open Space Section), to improve open space provision standards and quality.

Legislative Proposals to Streamline Development: Related Statutory Processes

The HKSAR's Development Bureau submitted a paper to the Legislative Council in late March to outline the Government's latest ideas concerning a range of legislative proposals to streamline development and the related statutory processes. The Government plans to expedite the supply of developable land and address the persistent demand for housing.

Because of this, the Development Bureau is working with the relevant Government departments to identify areas that could improve through the following regulations:

- (1) Town Planning Ordinance (Cap 130)
- (2) Lands Resumption Ordinance (Cap 124)
- (3) Foreshore and Sea-bed (Reclamations) Ordinance (Cap 127)
- (4) Roads (Works, Use and Compensation) Ordinance (Cap 370)
- (5) Railways Ordinance (Cap 519)
- (6) Environmental Impact Assessment Ordinance (Cap 499)

Moreover, the Development Bureau has arranged a forum to discuss this issue on 13 April 2022. The Permanent Secretary for Development (Planning and Lands), Ms Bernadette LINN, JP, will brief members on the details of the proposals and members will have a chance to offer feedback on them.
