Event Highlight

1. Joint-Universities New Year's Party

The surveying student societies of HKU, PolyU (BRE and LSGI), CityU, and THEi, arranged a Joint-Universities New Year's Party for surveying students of their universities. Our committee members Sr Kirsten Lam, Sr Mark Chan, Sr Sunny Wong, Ms Cara Ng, myself, and other friends in the surveying industry had the pleasure to join this wonderful event chatting and playing with the younger members and sharing with them our industry experiences.

We thank the representatives of these universities for doing a good job to bring all of us together and ensuring an enjoyable time. We hope such an event will strengthen the bonds between the students and help them build their own networks while also having fun.

2. Careers Expo

The Careers Expo was held at the Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre from 24-27 January. YSG appreciates the generous help provided by the volunteers, which included sharing their professional experiences with the public and showing how to enter the surveying profession. The event also gave YSG the chance to network with other volunteers. Thanks also go to President Sr Dr Tony Leung for holding a career forum on 25 January to discuss the career prospects for the surveying profession. Special thanks go to Sr Rock Man and Sr Mark Chan for coordinating the preparation works and the HKIS Secretariat for its full support.

How can we miss networking with our members? YSG has organised a cocktail-making class in Central for 14 March 2019 for its members. The venue, J Boroski, is the brainchild of New York master bartender Joseph Boroski. After a career working at leading cocktail bars and consulting for major hospitality brands like W Hotels, Ritz-Carlton, and Mandarin Oriental, Joseph first brought his new vision of a cocktail concierge service to Bangkok and now to Hong Kong. Each participant will learn how to make two cocktails and have a chance to network at the same time. Please refer to the flyer below or the HKIS website for registration details.
