Sharing Session with HKU BA in Urban Studies Students

Sr Edmond Yew and Sr Annie Chong met Year 3 students from the University of Hong Kong's Bachelor of Arts in Urban Studies programme via ZOOM on 31 March and 21 April. Sr Annie's presentation covered his past experiences with the real estate market and several land development projects. It also discussed the planning, design, and development considerations in response to market needs and development regulations. Sr Edmond followed up on his discussions with the students on their term projects, which covered the planning for and development of two government sale sites in Tuen Mun and Kai Tak, respectively.

PDD Council Meeting via Zoom

The PDD Council has been maintaining its operations online since the outbreak of COVID-19. On 16 April, Council members met via Zoom. During the meeting, members endorsed an application for accrediting a university course and the Divisional Educational Committee made recommendations to the HKIS Board of Education for its consideration.

Summer Intern Training

The PDD has organised a summer internship programme for Bachelor of Arts in Urban Studies students in recent years. After receiving positive feedback from previous students and members, the Council will continue to provide internship opportunities this summer to enrich students' practical experiences and knowledge in the planning and development fields.
